The petition process is a necessary step to being placed on the primary ballot for the 2024 election, and I appreciate your willingness to help me as I run for Representative in the 63rd District. Whether you decide to walk through your neighborhood to get signatures from your neighbors or you only get signatures from members of your household, I am truly grateful for your help.

The process may seem complicated, but it really isn't when you break it down. On the next page you'll see what needs to be done to create a good sheet of petitions. The important thing to remember is that on any sheets you fill out, the signatures must be original. Scanned and emailed petition forms don't count and can't be submitted.

After you've gotten all your signatures, you need to fill out the Circulator's Statement and have your signature notarized. (By the way, you can sign a petition and also fill out the Circulator's Statement.) If you can't find a notary, let me know and I'll arrange to have a notary witness your signature on the statement. If you are able to get a notary, stick the forms in an envelope and mail them back to me at the address above. I'd like to have them back in my hands no later than the first of November.

If you'd like to help me in other ways by putting up a yard sign, hosting a meet and greet or distributing campaign literature, send me a message by going to my website:
www.ILikeReick.com.

Whether it's trying to reform DCFS, fix our broken public pension system or create a business climate that provides good jobs and economic growth, I've tried to bring people together in common cause. I'd like to think that I've done a good job at that. But the job isn't done, and I'm grateful for your help.
